Gala Events Planned During Homecoming

by Robert Lysik

Homecoming Committee meetings have been held on the run for the past few weeks and students roaming around Alumni Hall may have caught bits of what's being planned for the weekend if they listened closely. But if they didn't happen to overhear, Dan Brewster's publicity committee promises to cover the campus with posters announcing activities galore.

Friday night, Nov. 4, its a little after 6 p.m. Astride a stallion a Knight in Purple and White beckons to three hooded figures, "Follow me". Close behind follows an organized mob but that's not murder you see in their eyes, it's fun. Where are they going? To the Pep Rally, of course. The Student Spirit Committee had planned to hold a bonfire at Central Connecticut Friday evening but had to cancel its plans when it was discovered that all the buildings were made of brick.

An hour and a half after the pep rally the Gym will get the treatment when AGP and KBR collaborate on the annual Sword and Shield Homecoming Dance. Remember, IT'S AT THE GYM. The dance will feature the presentation of this year's Homecoming Queen.

PHONE NUMBERS

The following phone numbers and inter-campus extensions have been listed for the New Men's Dorms. An inter-campus extension may be used to call one dorm from another. Outside phones must call the regular numbers.

The numbers and extensions are: North wing, 170 Lafayette st., main lobby, FO 8-9376, ED 3-9855, ED49529, ext. 202; 2nd floor, ED 3-9781, ED4-9628, ext. 204; 3rd floor, ED 4-9839, ED 4-9660, ext. 206; 4th floor, ED 3-9848, ED 3-9644, ext. 207.

South wing, 136 Lafayette st., main lobby, FO 8-9376, FO 8-9829, ext. 304; 2nd floor, FO 8-9526, FO 8-9360, ext. 360; 3rd floor, FO 8-9641, FO 8-9438, ext. 323; 4th floor, FO 8-9927, FO 8-9627, ext. 326.

The brothers have gone all out for you, show them that you appreciate their efforts and support them.

Get a good night's sleep so you can get up bright and early Saturday morning and drive to Alumni Hall where you can pick up Purple and White streamers free of charge. Decorate your car and be at Marina Circle at 11:30 a.m. when the Mayor of Bridgeport, Samuel Tedesco, gives the signal to start the parade.

Floats will be judged at Alumni Hall prior to the march through Bridgeport's business district. Judging of building displays will take place just after 12 noon.

The parade will return to the campus and proceed to the soccer field where the Purple Knights will champion the University in a tourney with Springfield.

After the soccer game you had better grab a quick bite to eat because busses and a motorcade leave Alumni Hall at 6:30 p.m., horns blaring, for Hedges Stadium where the Knights will do battle with the dastardly dragon, Central Connecticut State College. The last home game and the last game of the season.

Prof. Raymond Stewart promises us an exciting half time demonstration from his hard working group. The Purple Knights' maiden fair, the Homecoming Queen, will be introduced to those of you unfortunate enough to miss Friday night's dance.

After the game, it's back to the campus and the Gym for a "Victory" celebration. Two bands, over twenty musicians will play your favorites the way you want to hear them. The admission fee, a very small 25 centavos. The prizes for the dorm displays and floats will be awarded at this dance.

Concluding this weekend, and it's fortunate they're at the end, because what act could follow the Whiffenpoofs of old Eli? Yes that's right, the Alumni Hall Board of Directors presents the Yale Whiffenpoofs Sunday afternoon.

So don't go home for Homecoming, stay on campus and enjoy yourself at the biggest weekend of the semester.

Parents Day Set At November 13

Parents' Day, an annual event at the University will be held on Sunday Nov. 13.

The University has planned Parents' Day in order to give students parents a fuller understanding of the problems of a college education. President James H. Halsey urges "all students to encourage their parents to attend".

It is Dr. Halsey's sincere belief that the co-operation of parents in helping to solve problems of a college education can play a vital role in the total development of young people. He feels that a strong link between the home and the college is essential to a student's gaining the maximum benefits from his formal education.

Along with other activities during the day, parents will have an opportunity to confer with instructors. Instructors are asked to have the mid-semester grades of all students available.

The schedule for Parents' Day will be as follows: Between 10:30 a.m. and Noon there will be a Parent's Council Meeting in Trustees Hall of the Dana Hall Science Building. A "Dutch Treat" Parent's luncheon will be served between noon and 1 p.m.

Instructions for the afternoon sessions will be given between 1:05 and 1:15 p.m. in the Gym. Group meetings of Parents and Advisors will take place from 1:30 to 2:45 p.m.

Between 3 and 5 p.m. parents will have an opportunity to meet with faculty members. The College of Nursing will hold its capping ceremonies at 3 p.m. for those that wish to attend. This will take place in Trustees Hall of the Dana Science Building. A reception for parents and students will be held in the Dormitories from 5 to 5:30 p.m.

LIBRARY HOURS

Starting this Sunday, the University Library will be open at night from 6 to 9 p.m. The new hours are on a trial basis, and will be discontinued unless enough student use is made of the library.

FOOTBALL TROPHIES — John Diniamian, left and his brother Nels display the trophies that will be presented to the outstanding lineman and outstanding back at the Homecoming game Saturday at Hedges Stadium. The Diniamians, along with their brother Richie, are proprietors of the Seawall Restaurant. The brothers and one representative from each fraternity on campus will select the players to receive the awards. (Photo by Muniec)

Council President Mizak Slams Idle Legislators

Is the Student Council becoming an organization that makes laws, but does not abide by them?" This was the tone of Pres. Frank Mizak's remarks at an extra-ordinary Council meeting, last week.

What started with the reading of minutes ended up leaving the University legislators sternly scolded.

Quote: "The Student Council office is open but there is usually no one there to hear the complaints or suggestions of the students."

Quote: "Questions are brought up voted on and a motion is made concerning them, but that is where the functions of the Council stop. This should not be. It seems that the only time that the members take an active interest in the business of Council is between the hours of 1-3 on Wednesdays."

Mizak feels that members do not take it upon themselves to get business done. He feels that they only pass motions and stop there. He reminded them that their duty as Council members comes second only to school work and that all other activities should in no way interfere with these duties. They should have realized this when they took office, he said.

The meeting which should have lasted until 3 p.m. was adjourned at 1:45 p.m. because, as Mizak stated, "I have nothing further to discuss."

False Alarm Starts Riot

A false alarm turned in at the New Men's Dorms resulted in the first party raid in the history of the University recently.

At about 11 p.m. last Thursday, eight fire trucks responded to an alarm turned in on the third floor, south wing, of the New Dorms.

As the fire engines converged students poured out of the dorms for a closer look at the disturbance. Several hundred stood cheering the firemen searching for a fire to quench.

At this point, an unidentified group of investigators decided to take advantage of the spontaneous mobilization, and set off toward the girls' campus. The group gained in number and approximately 150 to 200 students were running along the streets in the vicinity of Seaside Park.

Depleted somewhat, the mob arrived at Marina Park Circle. At this point, the mob split up into various groups, one of which ran into Darien Hall for the briefest of visits. Another, larger group converged on Seaside Hall, intending to take it by storm, but were repelled by the sight of patrol cars pulling up.

With police converging on the scene, the rioters decided that safety lay in dispersion, and disperse they did, although police made no efforts to apprehend any students. One fun-loving policeman drove his motorcycle onto the lawn in front of Fones Hall in pursuit of a group of die-hards flourishing the spoils of their raid on Seaside Hall's clothesline. The cop rode along the sidewalks routing the group until they were sufficiently dispersed.

Meanwhile, other police were engaged in ordering students off the streets. However, they did nothing more than shout.

By 11:30, all was quiet once again on the University front.

WHAT'S ONE VOTE?

A PERSON WHO SAYS, "WHAT'S ONE VOTE?" might as well say, "What's one life?"

If everyone in the United States took this view around election time, it would mean goodbye to our priceless right to vote and with it would go many rights that make up a vital part of our freedom.

To get an idea of just how important one vote can be, consider this:

California, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Texas were all made states by a one vote margin of congress. Thomas Jefferson and John Quincy Adams were elected by a one vote margin of the electoral college. Rutherford B. Hayes, who was elected by a single vote, had his election contested, and when brought before the electoral college for a decision, he won again by a single vote.

A few weeks before Pearl Harbor, the draft Act of World War II was passed by one vote of the U.S. Senate.

YOUR vote is powerful, it can elect the candidate of your choice, that is if you go to the polls. If you don't vote, you might be responsible for the election of someone you don't want.

Take time out to study the issues and records of the men who are seeking to guide your destiny. Newspapers, magazines, books and television constantly supply up-to-date information about the candidates. Take a few minutes to read or listen so that you may know which lever to pull when you step inside the voting booth Nov. 8.

Politics is everybody's business. Governmental decisions at all levels effect each and everyone one of us. Isn't it just good common sense for us to study the issues, make up our minds and vote for the persons we feel can do the best job?

Students Split on Presidential Choice

Question: WHICH PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE WOULD YOU VOTE FOR AND WHY?

Pat Dasko, a sophomore majoring in physical education.

Kennedy. I feel that he has handled the controversial statements presented to him. I mean the way he has had to defend himself with his standpoint on Church vs State. With good judgement and rather mature wisdom. He is young and he certainly can't compare to Nixon with regard to diplomatic contacts and trips. Then again, Nixon is no great standard to follow on this point.

It's been quoted that his youth is going to prove to be a hindrance when he will have to sit down at the conference tables — it shouldn't be and I feel that Kennedy's youth along with his frank character and careful mind are just what this country needs to have it begin again to take the definite stands it should. We've lost this, and it's about time we've tried to regain our confidence. Kennedy has confidence and is not afraid to use it for decisions.

Edward Carey, a junior majoring in education.

Nixon and Lodge. Nixon has more experience and more capability than Kennedy. I think he will follow Eisenhower's program in foreign affairs which is good. Nixon's running mate, Lodge is tops in my opinion because he has the intelligence and knows how to keep us ahead of the Russian propaganda program. With Nixon and Lodge's experience I think they are an unbeatable team for president and vice-president of the United States.

Robert Darula, a senior majoring in physical education.

I firmly believe that this election is going to be extremely close. The closeness is due mainly to the inadequacies of the candidate, Nixon. Kennedy is qualified and is a sound leader and politician who will be able to guide us to a world wide power. The maintaining of world supremacy is a major factor at present and Kennedy in my opinion is the best possible man to do the job.

Barry Shaw, a freshman majoring in accounting.

Nixon. He has had more experience. I really don't know about racial policy. Kennedy has handled his religion the right way. It doesn't affect mine. Nixon has more on the ball in the foreign situation. Lodge can help him in this field.

Bob Zeidman, a freshman majoring in marketing.

I wouldn't vote for either one because they do not have the right qualifications as far as experience and have been very liberal in their views as far as foreign policy is concerned. They haven't said anything that other presidents haven't said. As far as governmental procedures, I don't feel they have the right qualifications. I feel a president should have at least 15 years experience behind him.

I don't feel they qualify as far as my own personal opinion goes. I believe that Stevenson would have been a better running mate against Nixon.

Thomas Pandolfi, a junior majoring in physical education.

Kennedy. I like his program. I think Kennedy can do a lot for world peace because Khrushchev will talk to Kennedy if he is elected but he will not talk to Nixon. Kennedy has a much stronger program even though the two programs are similar. I favor Lodge to Johnson.

Ron Glaser, a senior majoring in biology.

Kennedy. I think he is much more progressive and liberal than the present Eisenhower administration or the possible Nixon administration, as far as foreign policy is concerned.

Cliff Jacobson, a senior majoring in marketing.

I think Nixon is the boy. Kennedy is a hothead and will certainly get us into trouble in foreign affairs. It is my opinion that Lodge will help Nixon's administration as he is very capable in foreign affairs after being in the United Nations for so many years.

Joel Hand, a senior majoring in marketing.

Neither. In all the elections I have seen or read about I have never seen two less capable men as Kennedy and Nixon. This country is in a bad state if it cannot find better men to lead it. I feel it will be a bad four years to come.

Joan Kaplan, a senior majoring in education.

Kennedy. I feel his growth and vigor will be assets in our foreign relations. I like his attitudes. and since I feel that the party's platforms are very similar, I would favor Kennedy and Johnson to lead our country.

Nixon's running mate, Lodge, is brilliant and a well informed man. His job as ambassador to the United Nations has given him a wealth of experience and has taught him how to deal with the opposition. In my opinion Lodge should have been the per-

Donations Sought For New Mascot

From the files of 1950

It is hoped that all students will contribute at least 25 cents toward the purchase of a St. Bernard or Great Dane as a mascot. (But instead they ended up with a Purple Knight.)

Since the "Walk a Block and Save a Buck" campaign, police report fewer instances of students and faculty parking illegally. (But the price went up to three bucks and three blocks is too far to walk.)

Day and evening enrollment has dropped 15 from last year's 3,345 students. (Selective service you know).

Student Council announced their plans to clean out all "dead wood" organizations on campus. (They're still considering it.)

20 Receive Cortright Aid

The E. Everett Cortright Scholarships, given by the Board of Trustees in honor of E. Everett Cortright, founder and first president of the University, are benefiting 20 students this year.

The scholarships are given for one-half tuition for four years or full two years tuition. They are awarded at graduation to one boy and one girl ranking in the top ten per cent of their class from each of the seven local schools.

The seven high schools are: Central, Harding, Bassick, Roger Ludlowe, Andrew Warde, Stratford and Milford.

The freshmen on this scholarship are Sheldon Bufferd, an accounting major; Daniel Dennis, also in accounting; Kristine Jurgielewicz, a biology major; and Elaine Kish, a history major.

Also, Audrey Klotz, a secretarial major; Helen Kutrz, an English major; Patricia Mazzalno in arts and science and Robert Shapiro, a political science major.

Also included are: Joan Chevalier, a senior majoring in business education; Martha Dina, a sophomore majoring in elementary education; Edward Hardy, a junior majoring in electrical engineering, and Louis Kocsis, a senior majoring in electrical engineering.

Others include: Marilyn Looke, a senior nursing major; Joan Meyers, a junior English major, Robert Pekar, a senior industrial design major and Nancy Robel, a senior who is also majoring in industrial design.

Also: Maureen Shea, a sophomore executive secretarial major; Patricia Tyler, a senior majoring in math; Philip Whitney, a sophomore majoring in accounting and Louise Ziko, a sophomore majoring in art education.

Student of the Week

"Student spirit is better than it has been due to the freshmen, but the upperclassmen must lead the way if it is to be a total success," says Edmund Wolf.

Ed, who has been a member of Sigma Omicron Sigma for four years, holding the offices of chancellor and chaplain, feels that student spirit can still be improved. "The activities are there for anyone who has enough interest to participate. This includes team support as well as participation."

After receiving his bachelor's degree in psychology, Ed hopes to attend graduate school and then enter the field of school psychology. Through his position as resident counselor at Shelton Hall, Ed found that "communication is a basic problem of the University. The student should be better informed as to the many intricacies and goings-on within the school. The parents should also be familiar with occurrences here and thus gain a better knowledge of the activities of their sons and daughters."

As co-chairman of the Jacoby Lecture Committee, Ed is currently trying to bring a well-known personality to the campus for this convocation. He feels that someone in the entertainment or sports world could very well handle the subject of brotherhood, the topic of this lecture.

Although Ed is an active member of the Student Council, Hill, the French Club and the Psychology Club, these activities have not prevented him from making Dean's List for two semesters. He has also been president of Southport Hall, representative to Men's Senate from his dorm, and his prize story appeared in the Helicon last year. Ed is engaged to Maris Greenberg, a junior majoring in education. They plan to be married in June.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

The Young Democrats of the University have announced a political rally at Alumni Hall at 11:30 a.m. Nov. 6, prior to the arrival of Senator John F. Kennedy in Bridgeport.

After the rally there will be a motorcade down Park Ave. to hear the Senator address the populace of Bridgeport.

Membership in the club is now rapidly growing and dues is a dollar a year. Anyone between the ages of 16 and 40, as long as they are a student at the University, can join the club provided, of course, they are Democrats.

Psychology 103-4 Altered

In an attempt to decrease the number of drop-outs among freshmen students, the University psychology department has announced it has altered the content of Psychology 103-104 for the 1960-61 academic year.

Dr. Paul Lane, head of the psychology department, stated that the main reasons for the course change are to help the students adjust to college life and to help him realize that his problems are not unique.

The course changes consist of a more appropriate text than was previously used, Dr. Lane said, and a number of self-tests such as the Kuder Preference Record, the Lamly Motivational Test, and the Vocational Interest Rating Scale which, he feels, will help the student to better recognize in which direction his own interests and abilities lie.

The new text-book contains a number of case studies which, Dr. Lane said, the student can identify with and so come to realize that others have the same problems he has. Dr. Lane feels that recognizing that the problem exists is an important step toward solving it.

In the future, Dr. Lane stated, he would like to see all freshmen taking the psychology course. At present, students who wish to take the tests mentioned above, but who are not taking psychology, can do so for a fee of one dollar, he noted.

Commenting on the revised course, Dr. Alfred R. Wolff, director of Student Personnel, stated that a psychology course can give only limited help. Dr. Wolff feels that a student will have many of the same problems at college that he had previously, but that a course like Psychology 103 can help him adjust to them more effectively.

In addition, Dr. Wolff said that the course may help some students realize that they don't belong in college. He feels also that many students drop out because they don't understand why they are here, and that the course may help these students to some extent. He stated that there is a good chance that the revised course will cut the present drop-out rate.

Maier Notes Fire Hazards

"Although the nearest fire company is only one-half mile away, there is a serious danger of fire causing great damage to the University," stated Elmer Maier, University fire marshal.

Speaking in lieu of a record 11,300 deaths and $1.4 billion damage in the United States last year and recent observance of Fire Prevention Week, Maier told of the importance of drills to a group of fire marshals from the girls' dorms.

Maier is the only fireman at the University. He makes periodical checks on wiring and sees to it that each dorm has fire drills and fire marshals are doing their jobs correctly. Maier states that the New Dorms, the two large girls' dorms, and Dana Hall have hookups directly to the Fire Department, and the Library will as soon as it is completed, but all other buildings have to rely on hand extinguishers, except Ingleside, Norwalk and Schiott dorms which have sprinkler systems.

The International Fire Organization Committee stated in a recent report that the major causes of fires are defective or overheated cooking and heating equipment; defective or improperly used electrical wiring and careless smoking and disposal of matches. Fire marshal Maier considers smoking to be the most dangerous.

Pressing his point for stronger fire safety Maier cited an instance where fire broke out in a University building.

A fire started in Milford Hall in early September of 1958 and kept Bridgeport firemen busy for the better part of two hours. The building was unoccupied at the time, but normally housed ten men on the second floor.

In regard to playing games with or emptying extinguishers, W.T. Nowlan, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds said, "Not only is there a $50 fine attached to such 'fun' but how do you monetarily account for lives and property lost because of inoperative equipment?"

There will be a "Good News" dance at the Gym after the homecoming game Friday night. An 18 piece band will be on hand from 10:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. The admission charge is 25 cents.

Kennedy Has Edge in Faculty Poll

Presidential candidate John F. Kennedy showed a slight edge in popularity among faculty members when the Scribe staff undertook a "straw poll" of their views recently.

The question asked was, "Which presidential candidate will win the election, and why?" The results of the poll are:

Prof. Alphonse Sherman, of the accounting department.

Prof. Sherman believes that Kennedy is the man to win. "With a Democratic president and congress, there should be more internal improvements in this country. If Nixon gets in there will be the same problems as with Eisenhower."

Prof. George Stanley, of the mathematics department.

Professor Stanley is in favor of Nixon and hopes that he will win the election. However, he indicated that he believes the contest will be a very close one. "I feel that Mr. Nixon has a better grasp of the problems which we face both domestically and internationally. He is less repulsive and more considerate in his judgement. I believe that the Republican party stands for the development of the individual and free enterprise as opposed to big government and spending as a means of improving the economy."

Dean Clarence D.L. Ropp, of the College of Arts and Science, would not comment on the election.

Dean Helen Scurr, of the English department.

Dr. Scurr believes that a teacher should be impartial in the classroom, but outside the classroom she feels a teacher is free to support her candidate. Dr. Scurr indicated that she believes Kennedy will win. She also feels that religion should not be a major issue in the election.

Prof. Emerson Chamberlain, of the history department.

Professor Chamberlain is not enthusiastic about either of the candidates. He believes that there has been too much harping over American prestige. "The primary goal should be to bring about a more peaceful world."

Dean Arthur Trippensee, of the College of Education offered no comment on the election.

Prof. William Allen, of the history department.

Professor Allen stated three reasons why he will vote for the Nixon and Lodge ticket. "The first reason is foreign affairs. Both Nixon and Lodge have the background of experience necessary for dealing with this problem. I do not agree with the Democratic policy toward the Chinese islands and Cuba. Third is the issue of civil rights. I still can't reconcile Johnson on the Democratic ticket."

Dr. Paul Lane, chairman of the psychology department.

Dr. Lane believes that Kennedy will win the election. "The public is looking for a change in political administration in the blind hope that world conditions will get better with such a change." He feels that the United States is threatened by the progress of Russia and the influence and power which Russia has been exerting within the last seven or eight years.

Dr. David Field, head of Arnold College.

Dr. Field believes that Kennedy will win the election; however, he prefers Nixon. "Nixon is a much more rugged individual who can handle international conflicts."

Dr. Hans Apel, of the economics department.

"One can only judge public opinion. Kennedy has a slight edge now, even by judgements in Republican headquarters. I think I would vote for Kennedy myself. His platform is bolder and more things are likely to be attempted. He is not like Nixon who believes everything is fine. I do not think everything is fine."

Prof. Harry Kendall, of the history department.

"Nixon and Lodge offer a better foreign policy program. They are conservative; I support them on the policy of limited federal aid to education though I am by no means against it."

Dean Earle Bigsbee, of the Junior College of Connecticut.

"I don't want to be responsible for electing either one. I will remain undecided until further statements are made by each of them."

Dean Willard Berggren, of the College of Engineering.

"Nixon, because he's not as bad as the other guy."

Prof. Ralph Yakel, of the economics department did not comment.

Dr. Justus Van der Kroef, of the sociology department.

"My personal opinion is neither of the two candidates presents any real confrontation of the issues. I'm only puzzled that both candidates are not in the same party. This tragedy is part of a continuous process of decreased true understanding and presentation of political issues which may be said to have begun in this country after World War I. There are certain solutions to this problem, but it would take too long to explain them."

Dr. Alfred Wolff, head of Student Personnel.

"I think Kennedy will win the election because there are many more registered Democrats than Republicans. Kennedy's appeal at least equals Nixon's therefore Nixon won't get the independent votes that elected Eisenhower."

Dean Eaton Read, of the College of Business Administration would not comment on the election.

Prof. Francis Dileo, of the accounting department.

"In terms of growth, Kennedy promises to do more for our country. Mr. Nixon has taken a 'stand-pat' attitude which I can't agree with."

Library Group Meets Today

The college and university section of the Connecticut Library Association will hold its regular fall meeting at Wesleyan University, in Middletown, today.

The University is being represented by Librarian Lewis M. Ice.

"Centralization versus decentralization" is the scheduled topic for this meeting. Whether library facilities should be in one place or scattered around campus will be discussed.

James Skipper of the University of Connecticut will present the case for centralization, and Fred Weinstein of Southern Connecticut State College will present the case for decentralization.

Past Scribe Staffers Employed by Rozene

Two former Scribe staffers are currently occupying key positions in the Rozene Advertising agency, the only recruitment specialist agency in the state.

A recent article in the Sunday Post, marking Rozene's 25th year of growth, noted that Brian O'Gorman, graduate in advertising and Jack J. Hurley, a former journalism major, are serving the agency as senior account executive and agency coordinator.

Jack Rozene, president and owner of the agency, also attended the University for a time, and spent several terms as an instructor in advertising here.

One of a half-dozen in the country that specializes in recruitment and placement advertising, the Rozene agency creates advertising for attracting needed talent to various industries.

Along Park Place

with JOHN CUPOLE

Homecoming is here again. For some students in the past, however, homecoming weekend has been "homegoing" weekend because they have either gone home or to their private hideaways for the weekend. We need the support of both students and alumni including the "home-goers" to make this weekend a success.

The activities for the weekend will be of several different kinds which are guaranteed to provide plenty of fun and excitement for everyone. Among the highlights of the weekend will be a float parade, a pep rally that should prove to be the most memorable one in the history of the school, a dance presenting the homecoming queen, a soccer game, the final home football game and the Yale Whiffenpoofs.

A round of applause for the Student Spirit Committee that is doing an outstanding job of arousing student spirit and communicating with the students. Rumor has it that the Student Spirit Committee is planning to have a dance aboard a Port Jefferson Ferry—a real rocking affair.

A salute to Tom Daly who is one of Student Spirit's foremost assets and whose weird voice has been heard between classes around Alumni Hall recently. Tom's voice is always accompanied by unearthly, but cultural music; he is otherwise known as Bori Karloffski and he features sheer madness like killing and stuffing his mother-in-law and many other psychotic deeds. Tom should be encouraged, for his talent is rare.

The University Student Christian Association recently participated in the United Nations International Emergency Fund's "Trick or Treat" program. This program is a part of the Fund's campaign to help the underprivileged children of the world, 750 million of them. Collections were taken at the dormitories and Alumni Hall.

Sigma Lambda Chi takes pride in announcing the pinning of brother Walter Zuckerman to Miss Andrea Grussman of Trumbull Hall. Best wishes to Walt and Andrea. Gordie Cazano's lost hair almost resulted in some lost teeth for someone else at a friendly little get-together last weekend, when Gordie received some uncomplimentary remarks about his absent hair.

Kathy Wasco and Jack Cunningham were found under one pancho running all over the front lawn of another UB student. Kathy and Jack were completely sober too. Robin Altieri has traded in all her University men for one of Fairfield U's boys who will escort her to the homecoming activities.

Eunice Morganroth's car became real "hot" when the back seat of it caught fire at last week's football game. Eunice's car seems to be a real jinx because a few days after the fire the car was hit by a hit-and-run driver along Park Place.

Nice to see Dan Rice of TS and Walt Londergan of OSR around Alumni Hall again while they are on leave from the service. John Aires asserted that he can never remember imparting a farewell kiss to any girl on the first date with her—contrary to the recollection of a UB belle.

Don't miss the Whiffenpoofs on Nov. 6, sponsored by the Alumni Hall Board of Directors.

Carol Halkovic has still not gotten over the surprise party which was held in her honor as departing secretary of Alumni Hall. Congratulations to Sally Sofko and Al Koperwhats who have been pinned for an entire year.

The TE annual get acquainted party was the most successful one held in several years. The illustrious Digger Dee has been making some pretty successful passes lately—scoring points tremendously. Debbis Hartley eagerly awaits her mail every day.

Senator John Kennedy will arrive in Bridgeport Sunday; every one is invited to receive him.

POC veep Mike Litchenstein was in "never, never land" Friday night.

The brothers of SOS wish to announce the pinning of Brother Joel Goldberg to Loretta Miller. Good luck to Joel and Loretta.

Be sure to see the bon fire which will be an integral part of the pep rally Friday night.

KENNEDY HAS EDGE

John Rassias, assistant professor of foreign languages.

I believe that Kennedy will lead us on to a more active, more articulate, more responsible government. In foreign affairs, I am convinced that Kennedy will restore a more direct, vital and personal influence in areas where the Republican party has been tragically negligent, such as in Africa, South America, Cuba and Southeast Asia. I will vote for Kennedy.

son nominated to run for president representing the Republican party.

Ronald Redone, a sophomore majoring in sociology.

I'll vote for the one that promises the least, because promises usually never come through. This is a realistic world but candidates feel they are idealistic in their approach to the public.

Anita Matusow, a freshman majoring in psychology.

I would vote for Kennedy because of the possibility of getting Stevenson as Secretary of State. If he could put it in action it would work.

Harry Saslow, a sophomore majoring in history.

Kennedy. He's not a party man, he's an individual. He has gone against Lyndon Johnson in Congress and the whole party and the southern Democrats block in civil rights legislation. Nixon would just be everything the Eisenhower administration was for another four years.

Phyllis Lennenbaum, a freshman majoring in elementary education.

Nixon. I like the Republican platform and I also feel he is very well informed on foreign affairs. Nixon's wife is more adept to cope with the problems of the first lady. She is more mature and more capable of assuming the duties of the president's wife.

Gail Walisser, a freshman majoring in secretarial studies.

Kennedy. Because I hate Nixon. I am a Democrat. Nixon is hated in all foreign countries. I hate Nixon period. I have no intelligent views.

Beverly Kaufman, a freshman majoring in journalism.

I would vote for Kennedy because he is a conscientious man and he thinks about the people whereas Nixon is strictly a politician and his thoughts are machine controlled by the party. My main reason for voting for Kennedy is that Nixon has not done very much in the past eight years and I judge a man on his past record.

Robert Lubus, a sophomore majoring in marketing.

Nixon. He is more experienced in foreign affairs. Nixon is definitely the best choice that America can make at this time. I am against the socialistic policies of the democratic party which stands for higher taxes and less individuality. Mr. Kennedy is bound by several things other than his party's policies.

Carol Haberman, a freshman majoring in psychology.

Kennedy. I think he's the best man and I don't like the present administration. The country has lost a lot of prestige with other countries and Kennedy would pick this up. Since he's young, he has new ideas not connected with any previous administration as a whole, but since Nixon has been connected with a party his ideas are not new.

Robert Leigh, a senior majoring in physical education.

Nixon is the most likely candidate, basically because of the policies of the people not to put Catholics in office. Kennedy is a good man but his religion is the only thing against him. Pre-election polls are actually no indication of who will take office, mainly because these polls are not taken among voters.

Jeanne Richens, a senior majoring in education.

Actually, I am undecided. Kennedy has shown well on his tour throughout the states. Nixon also impressed me when he spoke with Mr. R. in New York last year. When I return by absentee ballot my mind will be made up.

Linda Bloch, a freshman majoring in English.

I would vote for Kennedy because I don't like Nixon. I think he is too conservative and will get us into a mess as did Eisenhower. We need a new administration with a new policy, to help us regain our prestige. Anyway, Pat overdresses.

Judy Goldstein, a freshman majoring in elementary education.

Kennedy. I feel that he is more capable and can do a better job than Nixon because his foreign policy seems to be more objective. He has expressed a sincere desire to get the United States out of its stagnant defensive position in the face of international politics.

Frosh Gridders Take First Win

by Ed DeTour

Saturday afternoon the UB frosh traveled to Farmingdale L.I., and gained their first victory of the year, 18-8.

The defensive team led by Charlie Smith, Jack Kasnic and Ronnie Weir held the Aggies to six points in the first half.

After failing to score from five inches out in the first quarter the frosh got possession of the pigskin and drove 43 yards as Jim McKinnery finished the drive with a plunge.

In the second half quarterback Mike Bourque put the frosh in gear and threw a long pass to George Dube to make it 12-6. Another long drive was successful with Paul Bruno scoring from the two yard line.

The Aggies threatened in the last quarter and Les Warren pulled the defensive play of the game when he stole the ball out of an Aggie man's hands and ran for 30 yards before he was brought down.

Coach Bill Barstow's charges outgained the Aggies, 215 yards to 24 yards rushing and 109 to 93 via the air route. The yearlings picked up 23 first downs compared to the Aggies' 5.

After three losses the frosh are now reaching their potential and face the Hofstra Freshman in two weeks.

Local Jazz Station Begins Operations

Dave Brubeck, one of America's noted exponents of modern jazz, will join forces with WJZZ, the East Coast's first all jazz FM station, now broadcasting to the New York Metropolitan area and the lower New England states.

"Under Dave Brubeck's direction, we expect WJZZ's jazz programming to have the widest possible appeal to all who appreciate good jazz," says Michael Lawless, manager of the station.

Brubeck, a resident of Weston, Conn., recently completed a ballet for the American Ballet Theatre and has been asked to create three numbers for a Jerome Robbins ballet.

WJZZ will broadcast daily from 4 p.m. to 2 a.m. on 99.9 on the FM dial.

UB DOWNS POST; CZEKAJ STARS

Walt Czeka

by Marty Riger
The University Purple Knights rolled over C.W. Post College 20-0 Saturday in the final tune-up for the homecoming contest against Central Connecticut, this Saturday night at Hedges Stadium.

Walt Czeka led the scoring parade for the Knights as he scored two touchdowns on jaunts of four and 35 yards.

In the first quarter the Pioneers fumbled the ball on the first set of downs. UB took over possession on the Post ten yard line. The first three plays failed to pick up any yardage as the Post defense rose to the occasion. On the fourth down, UB lined up in field goal formation. Pete DeGregorio took the snap from center and Angelo Palumbo carried the fake out well. Instead DeGregorio threw a touchdown pass to Bob Lesko.

The point was no good and the Knights held a 6-0 advantage.

In the second quarter the men from UB started a drive on their own 38 yard line. Czeka and Mike Oshan were the bulwarks in this drive as they brought the ball down to the Pioneer 35 yard line. Czeka then galloped the remaining distance and the score was 12-0, UB.

Both teams were throttled in the third quarter with most of the action taking place between the thirty yard lines.

In the fourth quarter the Knights got rolling once again. In a sustained drive UB moved the ball to the Post four yard line. A DeGregorio to Czeka was ruled pass interference and on the next play Czeka plunged for the final tally. Oshan ran for the conversion and Bridgeport held a 19-0 lead.

It looked as if the boys were going to make me look good as they were in striking distance of another T.D. Last week I predicted Bridgeport 26, Post 0. But the final score remained 20-0.

The "D" men scored their most impressive victory of the season. Not only did the defense play their usual outstanding game but the offense moved very well also. The offense picked up 240 yards on the ground compared to 42 yards for the Pioneers. In the air the Knights' passes were good for 87 yards compared to 28 for Post.

Czeka and Oshan led the ground gainers with 85 and 62 yards respectively. John Hutchinson, punter seven times and totaled 385 yards in his punts for a 52 yard per punt average. Hutchinson is among the five leading punters in the east.

The defensive unit has been outstanding all season. Actually, there is no weak link in the entire defensive unit and it is appropriate to mention the entire defensive team. Ends: Bob Lesko and John Moran, tackles: Rudy Valentine and Jeff Whan, middle guard: Jud Mundorf, backer ups: Angelo Palumbo, Hohn Kopka, Rich Connetta and Walt Czeka and halfbacks: Mike Oshan and Norm Pederson. Other reserve members of the "Chinese bandits" include: Jim Smith, John Aires, Harry Schilb, Roy Bruno and Mike Sirowich.

Saturday night is the annual homecoming game against Central Connecticut State College. The coaching staff, the players and everyone involved have worked very hard to give us a winning team this season.

A victory against Central Connecticut would give the Knights a four win, two loss and one tie record for the year. The team is a young one with practically everyone coming back next year. This is an indication that winning football is here to stay at the University.

My prediction for this week: UB 33 — Central Connecticut 14.

Booters Smash Albany, Suffer Defeat at Yale

by Jim Hill
The UB booters made it a 6-0 score against Albany State Teachers College in game number seven of the 1960 soccer season Saturday.

After a freak first defeat at the hands of Yale last week, UB, led by flashy right wing Bobby Dikranian, boosted their over-all record to 6-1 by downing Albany.

Most of the first period was spent watching the ball bounce from one end of the field to the other, but Frank Lester got the real action underway when he went after the ball with a hard left foot and snapped one of the legs off of the timer's table.

Bob Dikranian followed this up at 19:40 when he took a long pass from Zucker, nicely timed the bounce, and belted it in. Bob got his and UB's second one after just one minute of play in the second quarter. He took a nice pass from John Majesko and pounded the short one into the left side of the net.

Majesko made it 3-0 on a penalty shot when he slammed the ball off the top bar and into the cage. Goals number four and five came at 11:30 and 15:15 of the next period, again off the foot of Dikranian. Majesko assisted with the first and Zucker with the second of the two scores.

Paul Peszynski wound things up at 6:15 of the final period when he took a beautiful long pass from Jon Olson and smashed the ball straight in.

The score does not really reflect the quality of this game, though. The Knights' offense worked together better than they have all season, and they fought for every goal. Only the fine playing of the defense, led by Lee (Hustle) Bogli and Bob (Headball) Landers kept Albany in check for 88 minutes.

In the Yale game, played at New Haven on Oct. 26, the booters met their first defeat of the season. Both teams ran hard throughout the game, and only the long boots of the defense on both sides kept the score down.

Charlie Frank of Yale drew first blood unassisted at 16:50 of the first period. John Majesko came back in quarter number two to tie it up when he pounded the high one off the goalie's fingertips and in. Co-captain Hans Zucker gave the assist.

The next 34 minutes contributed a lot of action but no score. Then came the break that made the difference. It was one of those things that the best coach in the world can't tell you about—it just happened.

Fred Mayer, UB's star goalie, jumped on the ball after it had been kicked in close. It slipped out from under him and an Eli foot blasted it goalwards. Bill Brew had hustled in to back Mayer up, but all the big center half had time to do was stop it with his hands.

John Pearce took the resulting penalty shot, smashing it point-blank past Mayer. With only seventeen seconds left, there wasn't much that could be done, and Yale took it 2-1. Bill Brew, Tasso Chiroglanis and Nick Wirth provided the long ones that kept the enemy from getting near pay dirt too often. Bob Landers' nice headballs and spirited play also helped keep the ball on the right side of the field.

The turnout at the last two games has been better, but it still needs a lot of improvement. Let's not make the booters lose another one before we show some interest in the team. They can still do big things this year, but any team needs all the support it can get.

Homecoming Saturday, Nov. 5, will see the Purple Knights playing host to a tough Springfield College team at Seaside Park. See you at 2:00 p.m.

RALLY

The Political Relations Forum is sponsoring a non-partisan rally at noon today at Alumni Hall. Democrats and Republicans are invited.

A mock student election will follow the rally from 1 to 3 p.m. and will continue tomorrow, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Polls will be conducted at Alumni Hall and the Dining Hall.
